

May 2011

Fulfillment Works Goes Live with Kewill Clippership

Fulfillment Works is a full-service, end-to-end fulfillment company serving start-ups and Fortune 500 giants.

Kewill, a leading provider of solutions that simplify global trade and logistics, today announced that Fulfillment Works LLC, a full-service, end-to-end fulfillment company serving start-ups and Fortune 500 giants alike across North America and beyond, has successfully deployed Kewill Clippership – the most widely deployed shipping solution in the market.

Kewill Clippership provides the flexibility and the broadest US carrier compliance in the market today, enabling Fulfillment Works to achieve new levels of shipping automation. The smooth implementation and testing process gave Fulfillment Works confidence that the shipping solution would handle their anticipated growth and be able to process their shipments with multiple carriers from one system, thereby eliminating the requirement for shippers to learn multiple systems.

“Using a flexible, multi-carrier shipping solution helps our operation scale since Kewill Clippership supports attended shipping stations with scanners, as well as batch processing,” said Amy Cooper, Owner of Fulfillment Works. “The range of carrier coverage, including US Postal Consolidation and Web Based Postage, allows us to meet our customer demands in a timely and cost effective manner.”

“Fulfillment Works is a perfect example of an organization growing and investing in technology as a core business driver, while ensuring a return on investment and improving overall customer service,” said Peter Starvaski, director of product management for Kewill.

About Fulfillment Works

Fulfillment Works is a full-service, end-to-end fulfillment company serving start-ups and Fortune 500 giants alike, across North America and beyond.

Fulfillment Works provide their clients with over 50 years of combined fulfillment experience. Their tenure in multiple industries has allowed them to gain valuable insights into the needs of their customers and they pride themselves on delivering proven solutions for both business to consumer and business to business clients – solutions like real-time, online inventory management, 99.9% warehouse inventory accuracy, the industry's fastest turnaround times, web-based, customized reporting capabilities, competitive pricing and seamless transition planning and implementation. These attributes translate directly into cost-saving solutions for their clients. For additional information please visit: www.fulfillmentworks.com.