

DHL Global Forwarding Extends Strategic Relationship With Kewill For 10+2

Kewill ISF Extends Offerings to DHL Global Forwarding's Customers

January 23, 2009 - Chelmsford, MA. - Kewill (LSE: KWL), a leading provider of global trade and logistics software, today announced that DHL Global Forwarding, the world's largest global forwarder has selected Kewill ISF (Importer Security Filing) to support their customers in meeting new US Customs requirements.

Kewill ISF will provide improved visibility and optimization of import related business processes that will help maintain a competitive advantage. Other key elements of the Kewill ISF solution include the collaborative portal - enabling suppliers, forwarders, brokers and importers to automate '10+2' filing including advanced visibility and alerts to ensure compliance as well as integration to Kewill's industry-leading customs brokerage solutions.

"Our customers expect us to provide the leading services and technology to accelerate their imports and meet US customs regulations," said Carol J. Sheldon, sr. vice president, customs brokerage and regulatory compliance for DHL Global Forwarding North America. "With Kewill ISF, we are extending the strategic relationship with Kewill and continuing to deliver the best service in the market delivered through the best solutions. Kewill's leading technology is a key element of our success."

"The increase in regulatory changes creates a challenge for forwarders and their customers," said Ken Halle, chief strategy officer for Kewill. "However, as one of the leading global forwarding companies in the world, DHL Global Forwarding has consistently been ahead of the curve in improving their customers' supply chain. The addition of Kewill ISF restates their commitment to providing the best service to their customers."
